MURDER CHARGE AGAINST HIM

Ex-Sergeant Pothier Arraigned in Cronkhite Case.

ROSENBLUTH TRIAL FOLLOWS

Latter, a Former Army Captain, Indicted With Pothier in the Major Cronkhite Murder Case—Trials a Sequel of Six Years' Investigation by Justice Department—Question of Jurisdiction Delayed Hearings.

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 1.—The federal district court here began the trial of Roland Pothier, ex-sergeant major, for the alleged murder of Major Alexander Cronkhite, while on a practice march at Camp Lewis, Oct. 25, 1918.

It was announced that Pothier's trial will be followed, on Oct. 22, by that of Robert Rosenbluth, former army captain, indicted with him for the Cronkhite murder. The trials come as the result of six years of investigation.

Major Cronkhite was shot while on a practice march with his command. An army investigating board returned a verdict of accidental death, but the dead man's father, Major General Adelbert Cronkhite, was not satisfied with the findings and started a chain of investigations. These inquiries, followed by alleged statements on Pothier's part, involving Rosenbluth, which later were repudiated, and the indictment of the two men by a federal grand jury here in 1922, has attracted nation-wide attention.

The trials were delayed for two years by the question of jurisdiction. The federal supreme court here must decide whether the cantonment was government property at the time Major Cronkhite met his death. Adjudication of this phase of the case will follow the selection of a jury. Eighty witnesses from all parts of the United States and its insular possessions are here for the two trials.

Pothier signed a confession in March, 1921, that he was responsible for the death of Major Cronkhite. Pothier said his pistol was discharged accidentally. The next day Pothier altered his story and confessed that he had wilfully shot and killed Major Cronkhite at the request and command of Captain Rosenbluth. Pothier explained that Rosenbluth had a strange influence over him. A few days later Pothier asserted that he had been induced to confess to the murder by third degree methods. He denied his guilt. Rosenbluth, who is of Jewish parentage, openly charged that he was the victim of a second Dreyfus affair; that he was being persecuted. General Cronkhite and his supporters answered that Rosenbluth had escaped trial through the efforts of powerful friends.

CAPTURED BY GIRL

Two Alleged Moonshiners Are Turned Over to Sheriff.

Wheeling, W. Va., Oct. 1.—Two alleged moonshiners were turned over to Sheriff J. B. Close at Parsons, W. Va., by Miss Gladys Kuh, deputy sheriff, who says she captured the pair on a country road near Parsons. The girl officer said she escorted her prisoners in at the point of a revolver, reminding them that they had better be good, because "a woman would not have any better sense than to shoot." Clarence and Thomas Groves of Petersburg are the prisoners. They were observed passing through Parsons in an automobile. Miss Kuh remarked that they "looked suspicious," and the sheriff said: "Go get them." And she did.

American Bankers Approve Proposal to Float Half of Loan Here.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—Committee reports submitted to the executive council of the American Bankers' association approve the proposal to float half of the forthcoming $200,000,000 loan to the German government in the United States. Recommendations that American bankers have nothing to do with the financing of Russia as long as the present soviet government remains in power were contained in the report. The council also received a report from its protective committee recommending that central bureaus of identification be organized to provide bankers and business men with information. Criminal depredations against banks reached the peak during the past year, reports said. Measured in dollars alone, the committee stated, the cost of crime to banking and industry exceeded the $3,500,000,000 annual budget of the federal government.

DAWES ASSAILED BY BROOKHART

Wrecked Republican Campaign in Northwest, Senator Says.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—In a letter he addressed to Chairman Butler of the Republican national committee, United States Senator Brookhart declares that Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice presidential candidate, has "wrecked the Republican campaign, especially in the northwest."

Brookhart attacks Dawes' record and requests that the Republican national committee take steps to secure the resignation of Mr. Dawes as the Republican candidate for vice president. Brookhart adds:

"In Dawes' place there should be selected a farm bloc candidate, not an imitation farm blocker, but one of the fighting type like Senator Norris of Nebraska, in whom the farmers have the utmost confidence."

Brookhart, who is seeking re-election on the Republican ticket in Iowa, concludes: "Under the false pretense of loyalty Dawes has organized a disloyal group to conduct an illegal defense of the constitution of the United States, with the secret purpose of destroying the constitutional rights of union labor, while the Pure Oil company, in which he is interested, is being sued by the government for violation of the criminal law. He is an insult to the whole laboring world and his sinister designs are so well known that he will certainly lose the whole labor vote."

Woman Sentenced

Cleveland, Oct. 1.—Mrs. Zora Flagg, 64, alleged to have posed as the widow of the late Henry M. Flagg, railroad operator, was given an indeterminate sentence to the Ohio state reformatory for women. The sentence was pronounced after a jury, which deliberated 10 minutes found the woman guilty of issuing a check to defraud.

Battle With Bandits

Murphysboro, Ill., Oct. 1.—Marshal Charles McWhirter and two others were shot in a gun fight with three bandits who entered the bank of Dowell, 16 miles north of here. The robbery was frustrated. A posse is in pursuit of the bandits.

JAPAN GRANTED CONCESSIONS

Proposed Protocol of Arbitration Saved at Geneva.

AMENDMENTS ARE ADOPTED

Agreement Means That the League Council Will Intervene in Domestic Legislation of Nations When Appealed to by a Member Which Feels It Is Being Unjustly Treated—Concessions Must Be Approved.

Geneva, Oct. 1.—Important concessions were made by the league of nations subcommittee which drafted the arbitration clauses of the proposed protocol to bring about universal peace.

Amendments proposed by Ambassador Adatci, which had created a deadlock that threatened the entire project, were adopted in part by the subcommittee. Fifty nations accepted the amendments.

The agreement means that the league council or assembly will intervene in domestic legislation of nations when appealed to by a member which feels it is being unjustly treated. Although the subject of immigration was not mentioned, it is considered by many that Japan's interpretation of the clause in question would be that she could appeal to The Hague court, and thence to the league against discriminatory legislation laws in another country, such as the United States. The Japanese way of putting it is: "The broad principle is that international injustices created by domestic relation should be subject to conciliatory efforts to adjust them."

Ambassador Adatci, addressing the arbitration commission, expressed his country's "profound gratitude" for the manner in which the entire commission had worked to find a "solution of Japan's demands," and said he hoped a solution embodying them would be unanimously adopted.

The arbitration commission concession to Japan must be approved by the commission and later by the full assembly.

Several delegates took pains to emphasize that the solution of the Japanese difficulty, through the revision of the protocol, strikes no blow at the sovereign rights of states. They also took special pains to allay any misapprehensions of the American people when they repudiated the charge made during the last two days at Geneva that the amendments presented by the Japanese were aimed at certain other powers.

WOULD ENROLL EVERY "DRY"

State President of W. C. T. U. Issues Statement.

Columbus, Oct. 1.—Mrs. Florence D. Richards, state president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, believes that all citizens who wish the prohibition amendment to be protected should now stand by that law and help to enforce it.

"The Association Opposed to Prohibition is out to enroll every person in the United States not in sympathy with prohibition," said Mrs. Richards. "Likewise, the Women's Christian Temperance Union is in a campaign to secure the name of every dry person. We must outnumber the wets. We are asking every loyal citizen in the state to secure at least 10 new members this year. G. every member to get one new member with dues paid. We have a little pledge book at headquarters in Columbus, and we want every member to have one. This is the fifth and last year of our jubilee, and we sincerely hope every union will raise its full quota of the jubilee fund, unless this already has been done."

Duties Held Unnecessarily High

Washington, Oct. 1.—In a statement issued here, the Democratic national committee invited Secretary Mellon to join with it in requesting President Coolidge to make public "the findings of the United States tariff commission with reference to the adequacy or inadequacy of the tariff duties on aluminum and aluminum products as fixed by the Ford-McCumber tariff act." It characterized Secretary Mellon as the spokesman for the Mellon family, which, it is said, "practically owns the Aluminum Company of America." The statement added that the Democratic committee has information that the finding of the investigation conducted for nearly a year by the tariff commission show the existing duties to be "unnecessarily high."

The application was an amendment to the company's original application filed in December, 1922, which asked for authority to pay $2,750,000 for the same property.

City of Lima Files Appeal

Cincinnati, Oct. 1.—The city of Lima filed an appeal in the federal circuit court of appeals here against a verdict for $157,579 returned in favor of John W. Farley, Illinois contractor, who obtained a contract to build a sewer in Lima for $528,000 on Oct. 28, 1919. He claimed that he lost a large sum because the blueprints and drawing supplied him by the city were untruthful and misleading.

Girl Missing

Cleveland, Oct. 1.—Parents of Anna Uhrin, 15, high school student, appealed to police to aid in their search for the girl, missing since July 28. When the girl left home she said she had obtained employment and was going to stay with a chum near the place where she was to work. Because of this the parents did not become alarmed until the opening of school, when the girl failed to return home.

Cincinnati, Oct. 1.—Three armed automobile bandits kidnaped William Herring, 27, of Covington, Ky., robbed him of his watch, diamond ring and about $1,400 in money, took him in an automobile across the bridge to Cincinnati, hurled him from the machine and speeded away. The victim reported the robbery to the Covington police.

FOUR THOUSAND FALL IN BATTLE

Fighting Desperate Along the Shanghai Front.

WOUNDED MEN STREAMING IN

Artillery Bombardment and Machine Gun Fire Continue, With Both Sides Digging In Along the Railroad Near Sunkang—Bayonet Encounter Follows Attack by the Kiangsu Forces. Big Engagement Impending.

Shanghai, China, Oct. 1.—It is estimated that 4,000 soldiers were killed in the fighting along the Shanghai front. Machine gun fire and artillery bombardment continue, with both sides digging in along the railroad near Sunkang. Wounded soldiers of the Chekiang army are streaming into the city.

A bayonet encounter occurred when a further fierce Kiangsu counter attack was launched near Hwang Tu. Machine gun fire, however, finally forced their retreat with losses to the Kiangsu forces. When they retreated, Chekiang leaders asserted, they left 400 dead on the field. Chekiang leaders also claimed that their soldiers had captured and were holding an advantage salient in the Huang Tu area. Field headquarters of the Chekiang army at Nansiang was removed elsewhere after several Kiangsu airplanes had dropped bombs into the town.

A combined attack by the armies of Kiangsu, Kukien and Anhwei provinces against 6,000 Chekiang soldiers left to defend Sung Kiang, 28 miles south of Shanghai, is impending. The attack, it was said, was expected to develop along the lines of the Shanghai-Hangchow railway, which runs through Sunkang. Commanders from the three provinces were said to be assembling a powerful military machine with the idea of pressing through and attacking this city from the south.

A dispatch from Mukden, headquarters of the Manchurian armies, of Chang Tso Lin, who is making war on the central government at Peking, says an official communique, claims capture of Kienping, north of Jehol, by General Chang's fifth army.

YOUTH MUST DIE

Governor Refuses to Intervene in Case of Akron Slayer.

Columbus, Oct. 1.—Governor Donahy refused to commute the death sentence of Alexander Kuczik, 19, of Akron, who is scheduled to be electrocuted Oct. 17 for the murder of his 13-year-old cousin, Elizabeth Nagy.

"There have been 14 executions since I became governor," said Donahy, in refusing to intervene. "In each case there has been appeal for clemency. Had I followed my personal inclination I would have relieved all of them. But it is not my duty to override the courts. In the face of the statements of the alienists, in the face of the fact that there are no mitigating circumstances, I have nothing to do but let the majesty of the law be carried out. I am sorry."

The governor stated that he would grant a reprieve to permit counsel for Kuczik to carry their case into supreme court, if they desired.

Clemency was asked for the condemned youth on the ground of his age—he was only 19 when the crime was committed—and his alleged mental responsibility.

Darrow's Philosophy

Youngstown, O., Oct. 1.—No man can influence his own life, Clarence Darrow, Chicago lawyer, declared in an address at his boyhood home, near this city. "We are just puppets, tossed here and there by inevitable fate. No man has anything to do with himself, and never has any influence on his own life. We knew nothing in the beginning, and do not know what will happen in the end. Our work is all laid out for us. We live on bunk. We get our religion from our parents, and our politics from our grandfathers. Our birth, our religion, our marriage, are decided by fate."

Car Fare Boosted

Cincinnati, Oct. 1.—Car fare was increased to 11 cents today, in accordance with the provisions of the service-at-cost franchise. The company will issue six tickets for 60 cents as a convenience to its patrons. Whether or not there will be a further increase in fares will depend on the negotiations now in progress to have the Cincinnati Street Railway company operate under a new franchise.

CAPITAL IN FRENZY

Over the Success of the Washington Club in Winning Pennant.

Washington, Oct. 1.—This city plans to give the Washington champions of the American league a royal reception upon its arrival here tonight. Fans have been in a frenzy over the success of the club in winning the American league pennant.

Plans for the reception of the team have been completed. President Coolidge will act with the reception committee and will extend his congratulations and a welcome back to the city.

Sixty thousand applications have been made to the club office for tickets for the world series opening Saturday, and almost half of them will have to be rejected because the park will hold only 36,000 with a lot of crowding. Hoping to reward the home boys, who so loyally supported the team all season, the club officials are honoring applications first from Washington, then from Maryland and Virginia, and then other out of town points. Seats are sold in sets of three—for the first two games and the sixth if necessary. If the series is decided in five games the money for the third ticket will be refunded.

Storms Interrupt Rail Traffic

Pittsburgh, Oct. 1.—Storms in this state caused thousands of dollars of property damage. Traffic on the Lehigh Valley railroad in sections of Pennsylvania was disrupted by numerous landslides and trains were hours late. The town of Benton, Pa., was inundated with eight feet of water when Fishing creek overflowed its banks. Anthracite mines at Hazleton were flooded with water, forcing a suspension of work. A Philadelphia and Reading railway locomotive was buried under hundreds of tons of earth in a huge landslide near Ringtown. The fireman and a flagman were injured.

HUGHES TO SPEAK

Davis Will Introduce Secretary at Cincinnati Meeting.

Columbus, Oct. 1.—Don V. Parker, chairman of the speakers' bureau of the Republican campaign committee, announced that the Ohio Republican national campaign will be opened officially at Cincinnati Saturday night by Secretary of State Hughes. Harry L. Davis, Republican gubernatorial candidate, has canceled arrangements previously made for an address at Lima to greet Mr. Hughes at Cincinnati and to introduce him at the meeting, and Mr. Hughes will be the only speaker of the evening. The Columbus Republican Glee club will sing. Davis will speak at Lima later in the campaign.

Arrangements were completed by Parker whereby quartets from the Republican Glee club here will sing at meetings in any section of the state.

Hill Pleads Not Guilty

Baltimore, Oct. 1.—Congressman John Philip Hill pleaded not guilty to all counts in the indictment charging him with violation of the Volstead act as result of his 2.75 per cent cider party here Sept. 20. Hill furnished bail for his appearance for trial, asking that the case be put forward so that a decision on the case may be rendered before the elections. Judge Soper refused the request.

Unkindness Often Bad Habit.
Unkindness is more a loose, indifferent habit than intentional neglect, disrespect, or downright meanness. Words and deeds are parented by thoughts; and it is so easy to fall into slothful, indifferent thinking that, oftentimes unthinkingly, we neglect, speak carelessly to, or treat unconcernedly those toward whom we ought to act with most consideration and deference. G. E. W., in Great Thoughts.

Jackson's Masonic Record Lost.
General Jackson was a noted Mason of the War of 1812, and it is claimed that he received his Masonry in an army lodge. As a matter of fact, no absolute record has ever been found of when and where Andrew Jackson was made a Mason. He afterward became grand master of the Grand Lodge of Tennessee. It is believed that the records of a lodge in Tennessee which were burned years ago would show it.

10-YEAR-OLD PANAMA CANAL PASSES SUEZ

World's Greatest Artificial Inter-oceanic Waterway.

Washington.—"Ten years old in August, the Panama canal is such a lusty youngster that already it is outgrowing its original clothes and has Uncle Sam wondering if it will need larger garments."

"In traffic handled it has passed middle-aged, fifty-five-year-old Suez canal and is now the world's greatest artificial inter-oceanic waterway."

"At the present rate of traffic growth the canal will have to be greatly enlarged before it is three decades older."

"Such is a thumb-nail sketch of the accomplishments of America's 'Big Ditch' on the eve of its second decade," says a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic society. The waterway was formally opened to the world August 15, 1914.

"The Panama canal's birthday achievement gives the United States the proprietorship of the two busiest canals in the world, the Panama and the Sault Ste. Marie," continues the bulletin. "The latter still handles twice as much traffic as the Panama canal, although it is open only eight months of the year."

"Panama canal's ten-year record reads like the story of the traditional American boy, rising from poverty to wealth. It is a record of financial success beyond the dreams of many of its staunchest adherents: it is a record of service success; it is a triumph of sanitation; it is, as Viscount Bryce predicted, 'The greatest engineering achievement of history or of prospect.'"

"In 1923 canal tolls totaled more than $17,000,000 against expenses of $4,317,000, a net profit equal to more than 3.5 per cent of the construction cost of the canal, $375,000,000. In 1923 nearly 4,000 vessels passed from ocean to ocean. But the fiscal year of 1924 far outstripped 1923. Of the 107,000,000 cargo tons transferred in the decade, more than a fourth is credited to 1924 and the tolls rose to $24,200,000. Expenditure figures are not yet available."

Canal Gets Birthday Gift.

"President Coolidge recently gave the deserving Panama canal a birthday present; an executive order putting aside 22 square miles of additional country for the Canal Zone. This acquisition will be converted into a large reservoir to save up the Chagres floods which would otherwise go over the Gatun dam spillway."

"The new Alhajuela project will further increase the size of Gatun lake, which is already the largest artificial body of water in the world."

"Ever since the Panama canal was proposed predictions of its great boon to trade have filled the press. Ten years show what the canal is good for. Oil is king at Panama today, the figures show. The tonnage of oils, chiefly crude and refined petroleum, passing through from the Pacific to the Atlantic exceeds the total of all other products."

"From the United States' industrial East the iron and steel comes and thousands of tons of other manufactured products and textiles for South America, Australasia, and the Far East. From there also, come at the rate of more than 100,000 tons in one year ammonia, cotton, sulphur, cement, coal and coke, metals, ores and paper."

"In the United States the great argument for the Panama canal, after its necessity for defense, was its advantage to coastwise traffic. Ten years show that the 'Big Ditch' fulfills these expectations. Two-thirds of east-bound tonnage from all sources is coastwise traffic. Of the tonnage originating in west-coast states, 90 per cent is consigned to east-coast ports. Half of the shipments from the industrial East totaling one-third of all west-bound traffic is coastal traffic. California sends millions of barrels of oil east via the canal. Much of her fruit in cold storage moves this way and from the northern part of the coast comes the famous salmon. Lumber is a commodity of rapidly increasing importance in canal business, the east coast exchanging its particular types of wood for the west coast's native trees. Wheat from western Canada instead of flowing to Europe by the lakes and rivers of the St. Lawrence system, goes to Vancouver now and is shipped to England via Colon."

All Kinds of Odors.

"All the odors, scents and smells rising from a crowded Far East port cannot match those at Panama. Tankers with blood from South America, camphor from Japan, algarobilla from Andes forests, garlic, hair, cassia and whale oils from the Far East, iodine from Chile, perfume from France, onions from California, peanuts and tea from China, rubber from Singapore, copra from the South seas, and pungent ammonia from Baltimore, all mix at Panama. But probably no port in Araby dissipates its stenches and its scents in sanitary oxygen and antiseptic sunshine as Panama does. The Canal Zone, from Panama City on the Pacific to Cristobal and Colon on the Caribbean, is as spotless and well swept as a Dutch kitchen."

"In ten years more than 25,000 ships have transited the canal. These ships paid for this privilege $97,902,000; a sum equal to more than one-fourth the total construction cost. An average of 14 vessels a day now passes through the canal and each day the United States collects $65,000 tolls."

Much Good in Kind Words.

Kind words do not cost much. They never blister the tongue or lips. Though they do not cost much, yet they accomplish much. They make other people good natured. They also produce their own image on men's souls and a beautiful image it is.—Blaise Pascal.

Evolution.

Said the almost-philosopher: "The fellow whose pap used to drive 25 miles to see a balloon ascension will heartlessly call his kids out of the street while they're watching an airplane."

WARNING TO FORD OWNERS.

Recently stock circulars were sent to almost all Ford owners offering fractional parts of shares of Ford in Canada stock at $6 per portion.

We are issuing our first authoritative information on this for the protection of the public. The sale of this stock at the prices quoted in the circulars would be just $145 per share more than the stock is quoted on the Curb market and the book value of the stock is approximately $375 as of July 1, 1924. We will be pleased to secure any further information in this connection.

Relic of a Lost Race.
At Casa Grande, near Florence, Italy, is the ruin, with walls still standing, of what probably was the last communal house erected on the southern plains by a race of pueblo builders that probably had departed elsewhere or had been merged with wilder tribes even before the passing to the westward of the Aztec south-bound pilgrimage about the year 1300.

Prussian Military System.
During the Franco-German war, 1870-71, the armies of the various German states, though they were not Prussian, while in the field were commanded by the Prussian king and his general staff. After that war there was no difficulty in making Prussian control permanent. One after another the various states resigned direction of their armies to the king of Prussia, and for all practical purposes the German army became one. Almost immediately after the close of the Franco-German war a movement was begun to extend the imperial army, and the Prussian military system was introduced throughout the empire.

Became Masons During War.
The following are but a few of the Masons who became distinguished during the Civil war: McClellan, Hancock, Logan, Pickett, Garfield, McKinley, Albert Pike, Miles and Gen. John Corson Smith of Illinois. The latter was noted as a Masonic writer and author, and served in the Civil war in every grade from private to brigadier general. Later he became lieutenant governor of Illinois and general grand master of the Grand Lodge of Illinois and grand master of Grand Encampment Knights Templars of America.—Proceedings Grand Lodge of Quebec, 1910.

Rich Rhine Country.
Strange to say, the fine grapes are grown on the eastern slopes of the Rhine and the choicest varieties, as Johannisburger and Steinberger, are produced higher up the river, south of the Rhine province. It is, nevertheless, the land of the vine, especially the Moselle valley. The substantial claim of the province is its mineral wealth.

America is fast becoming a nation of better homes. Everywhere there is a growing realization that good Furniture has much to do with happiness and contentment within the home. Furniture, therefore, is now generally recognized as one of the soundest, possible investments--an investment that will pay you richly in "dividends" of comfort, pride and satisfaction. Let us show you the many new arrivals, the exceptional values, now featuring our splendid stock of worthwhile Furniture.

SECRETARY HUGHES

Will Open National Campaign in Cincinnati Saturday Evening.

Charles Evan Hughes, secretary of state in President Coolidge's cabinet, will officially open the Republican national campaign in Ohio at a meeting to be held in Emery hall at Cincinnati next Saturday evening, October 4, it was announced today by Don V. Parker, chairman of the speakers' bureau, Republican state campaign headquarters.

Immediately upon receipt of word that Secretary Hughes desired to speak in Ohio on that date, Harry L. Davis, Republican candidate for governor, cancelled arrangements previously made for a meeting at Lima Saturday evening. Mr. Davis will greet Mr. Hughes on his arrival at Cincinnati and will introduce the premier of the cabinet at the evening meeting, which is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

Mr. Hughes is to be the only speaker at this meeting and his exposition of the policies and issues of the Coolidge administration, and his own popularity in Ohio, are expected to attract the largest crowd that has attended a political meeting in Cincinnati this fall.

Detail arrangements for the meeting are being handled by the Republican county central committee of Hamilton county. A feature of the evening will be the singing of campaign songs by the Republican Glee club of Columbus.

Republicans from throughout central and southern Ohio will attend the meeting in large numbers, it is confidently expected. Arrangements previously made for special transportation to handle the Marion meeting last Saturday which Secretary Hughes was first scheduled to address, probably will be resumed for the Cincinnati gathering. It was the cancellation of the Marion meeting because of the death of Brigadier General Charles E. Sawyer, that made it possible for Mr. Hughes to come to Cincinnati for the meeting next Saturday.

The compelled to cancel his engagement at Lima this week, former Governor Davis plans to visit Lima later in the campaign, addressing afternoon and evening meetings.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Of Nelsonville Reorganized by Superintendent O. O. Crawford.

Professor O. O. Crawford, formerly of this city and now superintendent of the Nelsonville public schools, in a letter to the Union-Herald says:

"We have our schools organized with forty-seven teachers and over seven hundred pupils. I have had to reorganize the whole system as we put in the junior high this year. Our new high school building is not quite complete but we are using it. We shall have our dedication Friday, October 31. We have had two football games, winning both. We defeated Murray City 19 to 7 and Bremen 87 to 9."

"We like the city very much. The people are very friendly. We shall like it better when we can get out of the city for a drive without going to Athens or on some detour. I guess that the road will be open this next week. It will be open in time for the Lancaster fair and the Circleville Pumpkin Show."

Bees have no ability to detect red; in other words, to bees red is the same as black. A noted biologist recently determined exactly all the colors and shades of color bees can see, by feeding experiments. In a few hours bees would learn that the professor put sweets in blue or yellow dishes, but not in gray dishes; and by varying the details it was easily possible to discover the color senses of the bees. They were found to confuse red and black so uniformly that it was evident both seemed black to the bees.

AMUSEMENTS

Gloria Swanson wears a glittering array of new gowns in "A Society Scandal," her newest Paramount production, which is receiving its first local showing at the Met theater. But the fires of acting genius that were lighted by this star in "Zaza" and "The Humming Bird" are still flaring brightly. So while Miss Swanson offers an even more enticing fashion show than she ever did in her former "gown pictures," she also reminds us that she is a lady of outstanding dramatic and emotional talents besides. The combination is delightful.

"A Society Scandal" was adapted by Forrest Halsey, who also made the remarkably skillful scenario of "The Humming Bird," from Alfred Sutro's play, "The Laughing Lady," in which Ethel Barrymore starred on the New York stage. Mr. Halsey has taken several liberties with the polished Mr. Sutro's manuscript, but, we firmly believe, all are for the best.

Miss Swanson has the role of a society beauty who, involved innocently in a compromising situation with a rotter, is used for divorce by her weaking husband. On the stand her husband's lawyer, a handsome, young, and over-zealous attorney, tears her reputation to shreds. Whereupon it becomes the fair divorcee's chief aim in life to humiliate the lawyer in some way for the ruin he has wrought upon her socially. The piquant manner in which she accomplishes her purpose and the surprising result are pictured in a most engrossing manner.

We would class "A Society Scandal," as one of Miss Swanson's very best. The picture was produced by Allan Dwan, also responsible for "Robin Hood," "Zaza" and "Big Brother." Rod La Rocque, a personable young actor, who has been making rapid strides to fame lately, gives an excellent performance as the lawyer-hero. Ricardo Cortez is the "other man" in the case, and Allan Simpson, the original Arrow Collar man, is the husband.

PERSISTENCE

If You Want Anything Hard Enough, You Will Get It.

Everybody is interested in the new play, "Sheep" in which Walker Whiteside will appear this season. "Sheep" is the first play of its author to be produced, but it is the ninety-third to be written. Late H. Johnson, the playwright in question, is a Denver newspaper man who for many years has led a quiet, blameless life, marred by only one besetting sin—he would write plays. Thru the years he has been writing and writing and sending and getting back, even as a number of others. And still he has kept on. And because all the world loves persistence, it is good to hear that Mr. Johnson has had a play accepted at last, and it will be still better news to hear that it is a howling success.

It's another proof that a person can get what he wants, if he wants it hard enough to persist, not for a little while but for a lifetime.—Ohio State Journal

EDWIN D. RICKETTS

Republican Candidate for Congress

My record in congress for service to one and all alike is generally known by the electorate of this district. If returned to congress by your suffrage, I will render faithful and conscientious service to all.

I am for the actual and substantial reduction of taxes and real and effective economy, and for such legislation as will advance, promote and protect the interests and welfare of the common people.

In my judgment there should be less politics and more efficiency in official service in the congress of the United States.

The people deserve the highest quality of public service from their representatives in congress, and if elected my time and ability will be devoted to the advancement of their welfare and the protection of their interests.

I will appreciate your support and influence.

Gift of the FairiesIs Offered to All

The man who is continually wrapped up in himself makes a rather small parcel. I is a capital letter, but only a small word in the story of mankind, the Washington Post comments. Some people seem to possess the Peter Pan quality of never growing old. A man like Chauncey Depew remains youthful in heart and outlook even though he has seen ninety summers or more.

This magic is a gift of the fairies to all who keep in touch with the Angel of Hope, an angel whose favorite haunt is with little folk the world over. Imagination, the mother of sympathy, is most conspicuous in childhood, but it remains potent and plastic, as long as we give it even half a chance. What are the nursery rhymes but verses which have been adapted and molded by the fancies of the wee folk, when the bigger folk found other matters of greater interest?

Year after year our English nursery stories appear in new editions, popular throughout the centuries by reason of their irresistible appeal to the child mind.

These old-world stories are a child's birthright—the heirlooms of humanity—and many a grown-up retains a lingering affection for those friends of the days of yore.

Childishness and childlikeness are as different as the North and the South pole. The good points in childhood are not to be despised by any man unless he wants to grow old before his time. The sense of wonder, the craving to know more, the sheer joy in being alive, the nimble fancy—such traits as these are good enough for anyone. They will help us to take life as it comes, in a good-natured way.

One gift of the fairies may be ours—the spirit of youth, the desire for more light. This is the mystic gift which the fairies bestow upon all who stoop to conquer.

KEEPING WELLEARACHE A DANGER SIGNAL

DR. FREDERICK R. GREEN
Editor of "HEALTH"

HAVE you ever noticed the hopeless shut-in expression on a deaf person's face? Next to our eyes, our ears are our most important sense organs. It is through the eyes and the ears that we learn about the world outside ourselves and keep in communication with our fellows. A blind man cannot see what is going on around him but he can hear, and his hearing generally becomes more acute, to make up for his loss of sight.

But a deaf person is cut off from the world of sound. Not only human voice but also all forms of music do not exist for him.

Because the external ears are prominent features we generally think of that part of the ear which we can see. Yet the external ears are the least important part of our hearing machinery. They are like the horn on the phonograph or the loud speaker on the radio. Their function is to collect the sound waves and guide them to the inner ear. The really important part of our hearing apparatus lies in what is called the inner ear. This is surprisingly like the modern telephone. A tight oval membrane, the eardrum, corresponds to the diaphragm in the telephone. Three small bones, held by ligaments and attached so that they move when the drum vibrates, transmit the sound in the form of motion to the auditory nerve which carries the impulse to the brain. Anything which interferes with the perfect operation of this delicate machinery will affect the hearing.

Wax in the outer canal will prevent the air waves from entering or keep the drum from vibrating. Adenoids or enlarged tonsils in the throat may close up the lower end of the canal from the throat to the middle ear and so affect the air pressure that the drum or the bones cannot move. Inflammation of any kind will produce thickening of the drum or cause the ear bones to stick to each other. Infection in the ear with the collection of pus may rupture the drum or the pus may work back into the deeper structures in the bone producing deep abscesses, very dangerous to life.

Earache is not a harmless complaint of childhood, as some parents think. It is a sign of deep infection which may endanger life and certainly will injure hearing.

Don't use hairpins, toothpicks, matches, penholders or any other hard substance in the ears.

Don't allow children to put anything into their ears. Any foreign object may produce deafness or injury to the ears.

If wax occurs remove it with a soft cloth or by gently syringing the ear with warm water.

If your child has earache find out the reason for it. Hot water or hot salt bags, warm sweet oil, onion poultices and other household remedies are good enough to control the pain temporarily. But they do not remove the cause of the pain.

Middle ear infection in children following scarlet fever or measles or due to persistent "colds" may endanger life or may result in lifelong deafness.

Take the same care of your ears that you do of your eyes. Earache and deafness are danger signals. Take warning in time.

AT THE COURT HOUSE

Will of M. C. Millar.

The will of Michael C. Millar has been probated. The trustees of Forest cemetery are given $100 as a perpetual fund, the interest on which is to be used for the purpose of beautifying the lots of his father, his brother, Tecumseh, and himself.

To his daughter, Laura M. King, is given his home on West High street. She is also given all the personal property and household furniture contained in the dwelling, also the automobile, twenty-two shares of stock in the American Fuel and Oil company and one share of the Columbus Tire & Rubber company.

To his daughter, Anna M. Upton, he gives the dwelling house and lot on East Union street; thirty shares of preferred and thirty shares of common stock of the Builders and Traders Discount company, of Columbus, and two hundred and fifty dollars in United States government bonds.

To his son, M. Seymour Millar, he gives five shares of stock of the Ashville Banking company and six shares of stock in the Scioto Grain & Supply company. Also the testator's interest in a Ford truck and the scales on the farm near South Bloomfield.

To his grandchildren, Marietta and Charles Millar and Ralph Upton Jr., Sarah and Clara Louise Millar each fifty dollars in government bonds.

To M. Seymour Millar is given the use of a small diamond ring that belonged to testator's brother, Taylor Millar, so long as he lives and after his death it is to become the property of his grandson, Charles Millar Upton.

To Laura K. Smith he gives $200 in United States bonds. All the rest of the property is to be divided equally among his three children.

Harry B. Weaver was named and appointed executor. The will is dated January 29, 1924. Milt Morris and Eula M. Steele were the subscribing witnesses. The estate is estimated to be worth $15,000 of which $3,000 is personal.

"DANIEL BOONE"

Fourth of "Chronicles of America" Will be at Met October 6 and 7.

The fourth of "Chronicles of America" scheduled for showing here, is "Daniel Boone" portrays exciting life of great Kentucky pioneer, and will be at the Metropolitan theater, October 6 and 7.

Daniel Boone, courageous explorer, Indian fighter and frontier hero, lives again! As the "star" of a new motion picture he treads the trackless wilderness and outwits the crafty savages with the same intrepid bravery which has made him the beloved hero of every American youth.

We shall soon have the opportunity to go with him on one of his dangerous missions, for the Yale University Press film is coming to the Metropolitan movie.

This photoplay is the fourth of "The Chronicles of America" pictures and certainly few subjects have a greater chance for presenting action and thrills than the life of Boone, the great Kentucky pioneer. There is a subtle fascination surrounding stories of pioneer days which accounts for popularity of such screen material. But never before has a film been produced which correctly relates the actual incidents which transpired in that period of nation building in which Daniel Boone had a hand. Nor has any character of screen fiction ever been devised which can equal for convincing sincerity and realism the proverbial courage of Daniel Boone.

To set out with Daniel Boone on one of his perilous expeditions and to live with him within the stockade of Boonesboro, his tiny frontier settlement, promises an hour of rare adventure. He is captured by the Indians, lives with them as a brother, sits in council with them as a Shawnee warrior while an emissary of the British (the time is 1778) urges the Red Men to make war on the American pioneers. The situation is tense. Boone escapes, races back to the settlement, prepares for the attack and a desperate nine day siege begins. It would be unfair to describe the exciting scenes which follow.

Aside from any discussion on the question of film censorship there is a valuable thought in the words of a newspaper editor of another community who said in his editorial column recently, "It is quite safe to assert that such historical movies as Yale University Press has begun releasing will do more in a few years for better motion pictures than censorship would do in generations."

And to this, it could be added, "with no sacrifice of entertainment value." For a practical example go and see "Daniel Boone" when it is presented here.

GAS SUPPLY

DISCUSSED

Thomas H. Parkinson Addressed Chamber of Commerce.

Says Pressure in West Virginia is Coming Lower and New Source of Fuel Must be Found—Says of Rates Will be Paid to Council

Thomas H. Parkinson, of the Logan Natural Gas company, spoke to the members of the chamber of commerce at the regular meeting of that body Tuesday evening on the future of the company's supply, and the raise of gas rates in this vicinity which the company says it is forced to make in order to provide the fuel to consumers.

The company, said the speaker, is not arbitrary, autocratic or dictatorial in its dealings. We come to you as plain business men and in the past thirty days we have used your home papers to give you the facts of our case of supplies and told you why we will be forced to raise rates. We will either have to expand or quit business in this field, as the gas pressure at our base of supplies in West Virginia, is becoming lower and we are forced to seek newer fields right in this state and it takes money to sink wells.

Not all wells sunk are gas producers and the money sunk in experiment at holes does not come back. The field on which we have leases in northeastern Ohio, gives every promise of being a good producing field, but it is only in its experimental stage and we are now at work there sinking holes. This is really our reason for asking you to pay a little more for gas as we are going to a great expense in a new field experimenting and we cannot bear the brunt alone.

The time will come and it is not far distant when you will be forced to use artificial fuel. This has come to a large area in Indiana, where natural gas was abundant not over a decade since. In some towns artificial gas and natural gas are mixed together, which makes an excellent fuel for cooking and heating. Our company can substantiate and prove every statement it makes.

We prefer to come before the public and will in a few days present our increased schedule of rates to you thru council. We do this, as we think that you prefer dealing with us. Of course, we can go before the Public Utilities commission, present facts, which body will investigate and may later grant us the rates we ask.

This is our territory and we do not think that you could prevail on another Natural Gas company to come in here and lay pipes if we should give up this field. Would not it be better for the consumer to pay a little more for this convenience, than to be deprived of it altogether?

Agitation in Bavaria.

Berlin, Oct. 1.—Rumors of a monarchist uprising are rife in Bavaria. Police garrisons in Munich are held in a state of readiness and Fascisti everywhere were placed under surveillance. Police broke up a Fascist demonstration near Munich and arrested 13 demonstrators. The agitation coincides with the date, Oct. 1, originally set for the release of the notorious agitator, Adolf Hitler, from jail.

Pleads Not Guilty.

Middletown, Conn., Oct. 1.—Mrs. Johanna Tell pleaded not guilty to the charge of causing the death, April 8, of Charles Blair, at his farm where she lived as a housekeeper. Her trial began today. Mrs. Tell recently confessed, police say, that she had killed her employer and buried his body on the farm in Killingworth. She claimed that Blair had tried to force her to marry him.
